Sachverhalt

- Your German spouse or life partner has his or her habitual residence in Germany (i.e. his or her center of life is not only temporarily in Germany).
- Your marriage/life partnership with the German national is validly concluded and still exists.

Please note : For the validity of the marriage, the form specified at the place of marriage and the marriage requirements there are decisive. The marriage no longer exists if it has been divorced, annulled or declared invalid by an unappealable decision of a competent body.

- You and your spouse/life partner live together in a family relationship (for example, you share a common home). If you do not live together in a shared apartment, you may be considered to be living together as a family if you maintain regular contact with each other that goes beyond mere visits.
- You can communicate at least in a simple way in German (level A1 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages). This can be waived if there are no German courses offered in your country of origin, if they are too expensive or if you cannot attend them for other reasons.

Please note : under certain circumstances, the Aliens' Registration Office may require you to attend an integration course. This will then be noted on your residence permit.

- There is no interest in deportation against you.

Your stay does not endanger or impair the interests of the Federal Republic of Germany.
