business, the entire loan can be waived under certain circumstances.

The practical work you do, for example as part of the master craftsman's examination, is also subsidized. You can receive funding for up to half of the necessary and incurred material costs, up to a maximum of EUR 2,000, half as a grant and half as a loan.

With regard to the loan components of the funding, you are entitled to conclude a loan agreement with the Kreditanstalt für Wiederaufbau (KfW) upon approval of the upgrading training grant. Your loan is interest-free and repayment-free for the duration of the training and a subsequent waiting period of 2 years.

You can only apply for contributions towards living expenses if you complete your training full-time. If you are the parent of one or more children, you will receive a higher grant. If you have income or assets in excess of the allowances, this will be taken into account. You must also declare other state benefits, such as unemployment benefit, when you apply. You do not have to pay back the AFBG maintenance contribution.

Single parents receive an additional monthly childcare allowance for each child under the age of 14 in their household for both full-time and part-time measures.

If you are a foreign national, you can also receive the upgrading training grant if, for example, you are a

- are a national of the European Union (EU) or the European Economic Area (EEA) or
- have a specific residence permit or a permanent residence permit or
- have resided in Germany for a total of 3 years and have been legally employed.
