Would you like access to a master school or examination? Then you can have your foreign professional qualification in the skilled crafts officially recognized.

This means that you do not need a specific professional qualification to work permanently in these professions at the level of a journeyman or journeywoman. However, they do have the right to a recognition procedure. The procedure is called "equivalence determination." An equivalence determination at journeyman level also facilitates access to master schools and master examinations. You will receive a notification of the result of the procedure. The notice lists existing and any missing professional qualifications. The certificate enables employers to better assess your professional qualifications. For specialists from third countries, a recognition procedure is usually a prerequisite for the issuance of a visa. Third countries are all countries outside the European Union (EU), the
