Teaser	If you need reference film resources for your particularly elaborate measures, you can apply for funding under certain conditions.
Volltext	You can receive funding of up to 75 percent, but in any case up to EUR 100,000 for the following costly measures: • Material procurement, • script acquisition, or

Modul

Sachverhalt

- script development, or
- Preparation of a new program-filling film.

If you have received funding from other institutions, this will be deducted from your project costs.

You are obliged to inform the German Federal Film Board (FFA) whether and from which other funding institutions you have applied for funding for this measure or in what amount you have received such funding.

If the FFA has granted funding for your material procurement or screenplay procurement and development or in any other way for the preparation of a new program-filling film, you can no longer have these costs recognized as production costs in the amount of the funded amount as part of a later funding of the project.

You cannot receive the grant until you submit an application for payment. You submit your application informally to the German Federal Film Board (FFA).

You have no legal claim to the approval of your application.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

When applying, you must submit the following documents:

- Calculation customary in the industry
- Financing plan
- Proof of financing
- Description of the planned action
- Treatment or screenplay contract

In addition, if the funding is used for the preparation of a new program-length film:

- Production-ready screenplay
- Detailed project description
- Description of the planned exploitation of the film

When you have completed your measure, you must submit the following documents:
