Teaser	The Central Office for Financial Transaction Investigations (Finance Intelligence Unit, FIU for short) provides the obligated party with feedback on the relevance of its report within a reasonable period of time.
Volltext	The Financial Intelligence Unit collects and investigates reports of suspicious financial transactions. The English name of the central office and the corresponding abbreviation are often used: Financial Intelligence Unit (FIU). Its aim is to prevent, detect and prosecute money laundering and terrorist financing. As an obliged entity, you must report suspicious money movements to the FIU under certain conditions. If you have submitted such suspicious activity reports, you will receive feedback from the FIU on the relevance of your suspicious activity reports within a reasonable period of time. If you gain knowledge of personal data through this feedback, this data may only be used to improve • your own reporting behavior • your own risk management: Risk analysis and, based on this, security measures against money laundering and terrorist financing • the fulfillment of your own due diligence obligations,
