Teaser	If your glasses, prosthesis or other aid is damaged in an accident at work, on the way to work or at school, the statutory accident insurance will compensate for the damage by covering the cost of repair or replacement.
Volltext	If an aid you use is damaged or lost in an accident at work, on the way to or from school, the statutory accident insurance will compensate you for the damage. Aids include, for example: • prostheses • orthopedic footwear • support corsets • invalid carriages/wheelchairs • walking sticks • eyeglasses and • hearing aids It does not matter for what reason you need the aid. After damage, you can claim reimbursement of the repair costs. If your assistive device is destroyed or lost, the statutory accident insurance will cover the cost of a new device. This must correspond to the previous aid in terms of its equipment, function and price. The aim is for you to be able to use the aid again as you did before the accident ("in rem restitution"). The statutory accident insurance will therefore compensate you for the actual damage incurred. You are not entitled to have the statutory accident insurance replace luxury versions of aids that serve as ornaments or decorations.

Erforderliche Unterlagen	• Invoice for the damaged or lost device • Cost estimate for the new device • Invoice for the new aid or the repair invoice • Notification of the accident at work, on the way to work or at school by the employer or school authority. • Please ask your employers' liability insurance association or accident insurance fund whether you need to submit any further documents and, if so, which ones.
Voraussetzungen	The costs can only be covered if the following conditions are met: • There was an accident, i.e. a damaging, temporary event acting on the person from the outside. • Your assistive device was damaged or lost in the accident. • You were wearing the assistive device on your body during the accident. This is because there is no compensation, for example, if your glasses are kept in your briefcase and the briefcase is lost on the train. • Your assistive device must have been damaged during an activity insured under the statutory accident insurance (for example, during work, at daycare, at school, during studies). However, you do not necessarily have to have used it in the process (for example, if reading glasses carried in a breast pocket are damaged in an accident). • There must be proof of the accident (for example, an accident report by the employer or the school).
Kosten	There are no costs involved.
Verfahrensablauf	You can request reimbursement for damaged or destroyed assistive devices online or by mail.
