Teaser	Your family members no longer work full-time in your company? Then you must deregister these family members with the Agricultural Health Insurance Fund and Old Age Insurance Fund.
Volltext	Your dependents may be insured as so-called contributing family members (Mifas) with the Agricultural Health Insurance Fund and Old Age Insurance Fund. This is the case if they work full-time in your agricultural business. If your dependents no longer work (full-time) in your business, they are no longer insured. It is then important to deregister your dependents with the Agricultural Health Insurance Fund and Old Age Insurance Fund. These funds will then check whether the requirements for insurance have actually ceased to apply. They will also clarify, if necessary, the further insurance of your dependents. You may no longer have to pay the contributions for your dependents.
