Teaser	To register an electrically powered vehicle, you must apply for an e-license plate at your local vehicle registration office.
Volltext	You can apply for the e-license plate for vehicles that have an alternative drive system. This includes • Pure battery electric vehicles, • Vehicles that are charged externally via a charging cable, for example plug-in hybrid vehicles, and • hydrogen-powered vehicles, for example fuel cell cars. You can recognize an e-license plate by the letter "E" after the general vehicle license plate. If you want to enter environmental zones, you still need an environmental badge. Advantages for vehicles with an E license plate in road traffic are, for example • free parking, • Use of specially designated parking spaces, • use of the bus lane. These advantages vary from municipality to municipality. Please ask your local traffic authority what applies to your place of residence. Please note
