Teaser	If you share joint custody of a child only after birth, you can redefine the child's surname.
Volltext	You can redefine the name of your child if you do not establish joint custody with the other parent until after birth. The mother's surname or the father's surname may be considered. The time limit for the new determination of the name shall in principle expire three months after the joint custody has been established.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	• Birth certificate child (possibly with official translation) • Identity cards or passports • marriage certificate or • Proof of custody In individual cases, further documents may be required. You can inquire about this at the registry office.
Voraussetzungen	• The child already has a name • The joint care of the parents is justified only in retrospect (after the child already has a name) • if the child has reached the age of five: consent of the child

Modul	Sachverhalt
	The establishment of joint custody was not more than three months ago (exception: if one of the parents does not have his or her habitual residence in Germany when joint custody is established; then the period does not expire before the expiry of one month after returning to Germany)
Kosten	Fees of 23.50 euros are charged for the certification of the declaration, unless the municipality has set a different fee by statute.
Verfahrensablauf	You can submit the declaration of the name change at any registry office. The declaration becomes effective as soon as it arrives at the registry office that keeps the birth register entry for your child. Upon request, you will receive a certificate of the name change. The marriage register and the birth register are updated.
Bearbeitungsdauer
Frist	The redefinition of the birth name must take place within 3 months of the establishment of joint custody of the child.
