Volltext	The number of prospective students in Germany exceeds the number of available study places. Through central coordination, Hochschulstart ensures that each applicant receives only one study place and that all available study places are allocated. The following degree programmes have nationwide admission restrictions: • Medicine • Veterinary medicine • Dentistry • Pharmacy If you are interested in one of these degree programs, you must apply at Hochschulstart. You cannot apply directly to the university. Hochschulstart checks on the basis of the submitted documents whether you can get a study place and advises you comprehensively on questions regarding the allocation of study places.
