them to the respective recipients, for example the university, the General Students' Committee and the Studierendenwerk.

The semester fee is used to co-finance a certain proportion of the administrative expenses. The subsidy for student services is intended to promote the social and economic interests of students, for example student residences, daycare centers and canteens. The share for the student representation aims to subsidize the costs of representing the interests of students both internally and externally. In most cases, the contributions to discounted services such as public transport, cinema, theater, bicycle rental and so on are negotiated with the respective cooperation partners via the student representation. The distribution of funds to the cooperation partners is carried out by the student representatives.

The deadlines for transferring the semester fee vary from university to university. If the deadline for receipt of payment is exceeded, there is a risk of dunning procedures and possibly exmatriculation due to missing semester fees. The deadlines and contribution rates are published on the respective university websites. Students are also usually informed about the semester fee and the payment deadline by email or via other communication channels.

Under certain circumstances, it is possible to reclaim parts of the semester fee, for example the semester ticket in the event of a leave of absence. This partial exemption is regulated differently at each university and information on this can usually be found on the relevant websites.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- No documents required
- Payment of the semester fee, stating the required data, e.g. application, matriculation or invoice number

Voraussetzungen

Before you start studying at a university, you must pay the current semester fee when you enrol.

Modul
Sachverhalt

If you are already enrolled as a student, you must confirm your enrolment each semester by paying the current semester fee. Payment of the semester fee must be made in such a way that the amount is successfully credited to the university's account by a specified deadline.

If you have missed the transfer deadline, you can pay the semester fee plus a legally stipulated late payment fee within a grace period.

If you have paid too little and then fail to make the subsequent payment including the late payment fee, the payment is deemed not to have been made. You can then not be registered or re-registered. You may then be threatened with de-registration.

Kosten

- No documents required
- Depending on the payment method and financial institution, bank transfer or other transfer costs may apply.

Verfahrensablauf

- The semester fee must be transferred on time and in the correct amount to the specified account of the respective university.
- When making a bank transfer, the required information must be given in the subject line, for example the student registration, application or invoice number, the name and, if applicable, the current semester.

Bearbeitungsdauer

Processing can usually take up to a week, depending on the bank's processing time.

Frist

The universities have different deadlines. These are published on the websites of the universities, by e-mail and via other communication channels of the universities. The final deadline for receipt of payment is usually around 14 days before the start of the respective semester within the re-registration period. For late re-registrations, a late fee must be paid within a specified second deadline.
