Modul

Sachverhalt

- First, submit your application and the required documents to the dental association of the federal state in which you want to work.
- If necessary, you will be asked to submit missing documents.
- The automatic recognition procedure often applies. This means that your professional qualification will be recognised without an individual equivalence test.
- If you started your training before your country of training joined the EU/EEA, you must prove that your professional qualification meets the minimum standards of the EU ("certificate of conformity"). This is certified by the competent authority of your country of training. If your professional qualification does not meet the minimum standards, you must prove your professional experience. To do this, you must have worked in the profession in the country of origin for 3 years without interruption in the last 5 years prior to the application.
- If your professional qualification is not automatically recognised, your training must be checked individually. The competent authority will then check whether your professional qualification is equivalent. The professional qualification is equivalent if there are no significant differences between your foreign professional qualification and the German professional qualification.
- If your qualification as a specialist dentist is recognised, you can work in the profession in Germany. You will receive a notification.

If significant differences are found, the equivalence of your qualification as a specialist dentist will not be certified:

- You will receive a justification.
- You can take an aptitude test to prove the lack of knowledge.
- If you successfully pass the aptitude test, you will receive the recognition. You may then use the title "specialist dentist" for your specialisation.
