always refers to the person responsible for radiation protection. If there are any changes in the radiation protection organization, please contact the competent authority to discuss or arrange the next steps.

An example of a significant change is the replacement of the image receiver of the already approved X-ray equipment.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

The list of required documents for the application for permits can be found in Annex 2 Part C of the Act on Protection against the Harmful Effects of Ionizing Radiation (StrlSchG)
In particular:

- Proof of expertise in radiation protection including proof of updating
- Certificate and the expert test report
- Result of the quality assurance
- Type approval certificate
- Proof of knowledge of radiation protection for the personnel deployed, including updates to these certificates

In the case of approval of systems for use on animals, a license to practice medicine or proof of temporary exercise of the medical profession must also be submitted.
