every 12 months at the latest. You must submit the notification to the Chamber of Skilled Crafts that was responsible for the initial notification. As a rule, this is the Chamber of Skilled Crafts in whose district the initial provision of services took place.

However, you must report any significant changes in circumstances that affect the requirements for the provision of services (e.g. change of the person responsible for the business, provision of new craft activities requiring a license) in writing or electronically as part of a notification of change. In doing so, you must prove that the conditions for the cross-border provision of services are still met.

Erforderliche Unterlagen
Voraussetzungen

The first notification of the cross-border provision of services has already been made and it has been confirmed that the legal requirements have been met.

In the following year, services are to continue to be provided in Germany.

There is no significant change in circumstances, i.e:

- No other services subject to authorization are to be provided in Germany than those that were the subject of the initial notification.
- The person who is responsible for managing the business and has the necessary professional qualifications continues to work in the business.
- The legal establishment in the country of origin for the professional activity continues to exist.

Kosten

There are no costs.

Verfahrensablauf

The notification of the continuation of the cross-border provision of services can be made informally.

You can therefore submit the notification in writing by post, but also by email or, if necessary, online via administrative portals or the website of the competent Chamber of Skilled Crafts.

Bearbeitungsdauer

After notification, the services may continue to be
