Teaser	Individual exemptions are required for motor vehicles and their combinations that deviate from the regulations of the StVZO in terms of their dimensions (length, height, width), weights (axle loads, total masses), equipment or in any other way.
Volltext	Excavators, shovel loaders and grading machines are considered self-propelled work machines. (Forklift) trucks are treated in the same way as self-propelled work machines under licensing law. These vehicles are exempt from the regulations on the approval procedure. If the maximum design speed is more than 6 km/h and a self-propelled work machine or forklift truck is to be operated on public roads, the vehicle must correspond to an approved type or have an individual approval (operating permit). Vehicles with a maximum design speed of up to 20 km/h do not receive an official license plate. Forklift trucks, as well as self-propelled work machines with a maximum design speed of more than 20 km/h, may only be operated on public roads if they have an official license plate (license plate with green lettering on a white background). They are subject to regular main inspections and, if they have a total mass of more than
