for disabled people

- Benefits for participation in community life

Persons who are not only temporarily mentally, emotionally or physically significantly disabled or are threatened by such a disability are eligible. The benefits of integration assistance are subordinated to the benefits of other social service providers/rehabilitation providers (e.g. health insurance fund, pension insurance institution, employment agency, accident insurance institution). Furthermore, beneficiaries must pay a personal contribution from their income or assets if this exceeds a certain amount. However, certain performance groups are generally excluded from the use of a personal contribution. Special rules apply to the calculation of the amount.
