examination is to determine whether your employment has affected your health. The follow-up examination can then be repeated voluntarily every year until you are 18 years old (further follow-up examinations).

You do not need a check-up if you start a minor job or if you only work for a short time (maximum 2 months). This applies, for example, to a vacation job or a student internship.

The examination costs are paid by the state. You must apply for the examination authorization certificate and hand it over to your doctor so that he/she can reimburse the examination costs.

Sachverhalt

Go to your local citizens' office or make an appointment for the issue of the examination authorization certificate. You must bring an identity document with you to the appointment. You will receive the examination authorization certificate with UBS ID and the fillable questionnaire to prepare for your medical appointment

Medical examination:

You may decide for yourself which doctor you wish to be examined by.

Make an appointment with your doctor. Show your UBS ID (cell phone or UBS printout) at the doctor's office. We also recommend that you print out the questionnaire for the initial examination, have it completed and signed by your legal guardian so that you can present it at the medical examination. This will speed up the examination.

You will receive a certificate after the examination. You should present this to your employer before you start work.
