Sachverhalt

- natural person
- legal entity
- a partnership with legal capacity

Legal entities include, for example

- Limited liability company (GmbH)
- associations
- foundations

Partnerships with legal capacity include, for example

- Civil law partnership (GbR)
- General partnership (oHG)

As a legal entity or a partnership with legal capacity, you must appoint a natural person to represent you externally and who meets the professional requirements.

Registration in the legal services register only allows you to work outside of court and in certain proceedings before the social courts.

When registering, you may be subject to conditions that can be imposed or changed at any time.

If you are established in another country of the European Union (EU) or the European Economic Area (EEA) to practise a comparable profession, you can apply for temporary registration.

You can also register via the Single Point of Contact (SPC) in your federal state.

Once you have been registered, the competent registration authority will arrange for your registration to be publicly announced in the Legal Services Register.
