Volltext	When you move into an apartment, you must register with the registration office. If you are under the age of 16, you must register with the person whose home you are moving into. Newborns born in Germany only need to be registered if they move into a home other than that of their parents or mother. If you are of legal age and a guardian or caretaker has been appointed for you who can determine your place of residence, this person is responsible for registration. If you have several residences in Germany, one of these residences is your main residence. The main residence is <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • if you are married or living in a civil partnership: the home used primarily by both of you. This also applies if you are only living apart temporarily. • if you are married or in a civil partnership and live apart permanently: Your predominantly used home. • if you are a minor: the home mainly used by your parents or foster parents. If they live separately, the main residence is the home in which you mainly live. • Only if the predominantly used home cannot be determined beyond doubt should the focus of the living relationships be taken into account. Indications for this are, for example, the type of home, personal ties, social and local political activities as well as membership in clubs and other organizations.

Secondary residence is

- any other residence in Germany.

Each time you register, you must inform the registration authority whether you have any other residences in Germany and, if so, which of these residences is your main residence.

When registering with the registration authority, you must submit written confirmation from the landlord or landlady or a person appointed by him or her (landlord confirmation) if you are not the owner of the apartment yourself.

The confirmation from the landlord or landlady must contain the following data:

1. Name and address of the landlord or landlady and, if the landlord or landlady is not the owner, also the name of the owner,
2. date of moving in,
3. address of the dwelling and
4. Names of persons required to register in accordance with § 17 Paragraph 1 of the Federal Registration Act (BMG).

To register, you must complete and sign a registration form.

You will receive written or electronic confirmation of your registration free of charge (official registration confirmation).
