Sachverhalt

Journeys in connection with outpatient treatment can be prescribed – in some cases subject to the approval of the health insurance company – in the following exceptional cases:

- Transport of persons in need of care and severely disabled persons, in particular persons with recognised severe disabilities (mark "aG", "Bl" or "H") or persons in need of care with care level 3 in the event of permanent mobility impairment and with care level 4 or 5. An approval by the health insurance company is not required if an ambulance ride is prescribed, for example, with a taxi or rental car. However, a permit is required if the transport must be carried out with an ambulance due to the required medical-professional care or professional storage of the patient.
- If there is a disease that requires high-frequency treatment over a longer period of time and this treatment or the course of the disease leading to this treatment affects the patient in such a way that transport is essential to avoid harm to life and limb. This applies, for example, to trips to dialysis or to radiation or chemotherapy for cancer patients.
- Patients whose treatment does not correspond to the above-mentioned case studies can apply for approval and examination of their individual case by the health insurance company.

Kosten

Insured persons have to bear 10 percent of the fare themselves as a statutory co-payment, at least 5 euros and a maximum of 10 euros per trip, but never more than the actual costs incurred. These co-payments must also be made for children and young people.

For journeys in connection with inpatient treatment, insured persons pay a co-payment for the first and last journey. This also applies to journeys in connection with outpatient operations replacing wards.

If you have little or no income, you can be exempted from the co-payment on request. Please contact your health insurance company.
