Volltext	If your child's school or daycare center has been closed for infection reasons and you are therefore unable to go to work, you can apply for compensation. This also applies if your child has to quarantine. Compensation depends on your earnings. The compensation amounts to 67% of your net earnings and 80% of the social security contributions. Compensation is granted for a maximum closing period of 10 weeks. If you supervise, care for or care for your child alone, you will receive compensation for 20 weeks. This applies annually. If the facility would close anyway due to holidays, this regulation does not apply in principle. Before you receive this compensation, you must exhaust all other reasonable care options. These are, for example, <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • childcare by family members or friends, • Home office • Reduction of time credits or • Holiday. Care by so-called "risk groups" should be avoided. If you work on short-time work, you are not entitled to compensation.

The following applies to employees:

Your employer will pay you the compensation. The employer will be reimbursed for the amounts paid out by the competent authority. If your employer (especially smaller companies) cannot make advance payments, advances in the estimated amount of the reimbursement amount can be requested.

The following applies to employers:

You must pay the compensation to your employees for the duration of the closure period. They may have the amounts paid reimbursed by the competent authority.

Contributions to pension, long-term care and health insurance can also be reimbursed to you.

You can also apply for an advance.

The following applies to the self-employed:

You will receive the refund directly from the competent authority.

For the calculation of the loss of earnings, your last annual profit is taken into account. This is divided by 12.

Contributions to pension, long-term care and health insurance can also be reimbursed.

You can also apply for an advance.
