Teaser	Would you like to work permanently in Germany in an unlicensed craft or craft-like trade at master craftsman level? Then you can have your foreign professional qualification officially recognized in the skilled crafts sector.
Volltext	There are around 200 different professions in the skilled trades in Germany. Of these, 53 professions are subject to licensing. This means that you may only work independently in these professions on a permanent basis if you have the necessary professional qualifications. Special regulations apply to these 53 regulated professions. All other professions in the skilled trades are not regulated. This means: If you want to work permanently self-employed in these professions, you do not need a specific professional qualification. Note : For self-employed work, you must register with the competent body. This is a different procedure.

However, you have the right to a recognition procedure. The procedure is called "equivalence determination".

You will receive a notice about the result of the procedure. The notice will list your existing professional qualifications and any qualifications you may still lack.

The notification enables employers to better assess your professional qualifications. For specialists from third countries, a recognition procedure is usually a prerequisite for the issuance of a visa. Third countries are all countries outside the European Union (EU), the European Economic Area (EEA) and Switzerland.

The regional chambers of skilled crafts are responsible for determining equivalence in the skilled crafts sector. In some cases, the chambers of industry and commerce are also responsible. The responsible offices will advise you before you apply and identify the appropriate occupation in the skilled crafts for you.

You can also apply for an equivalence assessment from abroad.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

The responsible office will tell you which documents you need to submit. Important documents are generally:

- Proof of identity (passport or identity card)
- Marriage certificate (if your name has changed due to marriage)
