Teaser	Would you like to offer gastronomy with alcohol as part of a time-limited event (e.g. fair, city festival, shooting festival) or for another temporary occasion (e.g. baukantinen)? Then you need a temporary permit (permit).
Volltext	If you would like to operate a catering business with alcohol serving as part of a time-limited event (e.g. fair, city festival, shooting festival) or for another temporary occasion (e.g. canteen on the occasion of a major construction site), you will need a temporary permit (permit). This only applies if the event in question can be attended by anyone or by a certain group of people. A permit is also required if you have a travel trade card. Conversely, you do not need a travel trade card for a specific event if you already have permission to do so (§ 55a para. 1 no. 7 GewO). If you want to regularly participate in a certain recurring event with your catering business (e.g. at an annual folk festival), there is always an alternative to repeatedly applying for a permit. If neither the spatial conditions nor the operating mode of your business change, a permanent permit is considered. However, the granting of such a permit does not say anything about the allocation of a stand space at the respective event.
