| Teaser                        | If you drive a registered vehicle on public roads, you must always have the registration certificate part I with you. This is the former vehicle registration certificate.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Volltext                      | You may only use a vehicle subject to registration on public roads if it has been registered for this purpose by the competent registration authority. Proof of registration is the registration certificate part I, which the driver must always carry with him or her. The registration certificate is the main identification document during traffic checks. It is a document that has been introduced throughout the European Union (EU). The registration certificate part I contains the most important information about the vehicle and the vehicle owner. The vehicle registration certificate used to fulfill this function. Both natural and legal persons, for example companies, can register the vehicle. |
