Teaser	Before the start of retraining, you as the retraining body must notify the competent body of this measure. In the case of comparable examination certificates, the candidate may be exempted from individual examination components by the competent body.
Volltext	Retraining serves the purpose of vocational reorientation. They are generally carried out on the basis of recognized training occupations and must therefore be monitored by the bodies responsible for these occupations, for example chambers of industry and commerce, chambers of skilled trades and other professional chambers. As the provider of a retraining measure, you must notify the competent authority before it begins. When concluding a retraining contract, a copy must be enclosed. In the case of comparable examination certificates, the candidate may be exempted from individual examination components by the competent body. The obligation to notify extends to the essential content of the retraining contract.
