Teaser	Do you have financial losses due to your visual impairment or deafness? Find out here about your entitlement to blind or deaf benefit.
Volltext	If you are blind or severely visually impaired, you can be granted a blind person's allowance. It is intended to compensate for your additional expenses due to your disability. The full allowance for the blind is 424.44 euros per month for adults and 294.76 euros per month for minors. The severely visually impaired receive 61.30 euros per month. Benefits under the State Blindness Benefit Act are independent of income and assets. However, some care insurance benefits are offset against the allowance for the blind. For example, if you receive cash benefits or benefits in kind for home care or for partial or full inpatient care, you will receive a reduced allowance for the blind. The amounts are as follows: • Care level 2: Adults: 279.08 euros Minors: 149.40 euros • Care level 3-5: Adults: 244.59 euros Minors: 114.91 euros • Home - own contribution to home costs more than 50%:  Adults: 424.44 euros Minors: 294.76 euros • Home - own contribution to home costs less than 50%: Adults: 212.22 euros Minors: 147.38 euros The same applies if you are deaf.
