At what time, on which days retail companies can open or must remain closed, is regulated by the Shop Opening Hours Act. In Saxony-Anhalt, as a shop owner, you are allowed to open your shop for sale Monday to Friday from 0 to 24 o'clock and on Saturdays from 0 to 20 o'clock. On Sundays and public holidays, an opening of the shop is generally not permitted. But there are exceptions.

On Sundays and public holidays, for example,

- bakery or confectionery products from bakeries and pastry shops,
- Flowers from flower shops, as well as
- Newspapers and magazines of kiosks are offered for sale for a period of five consecutive hours after the decision of the traders, on Christmas Eve until 2 p.m. at the latest. Likewise, on Sundays and public holidays in recognized spa and recreation resorts as well as excursion destinations with particularly strong tourism may be open for the sale of travel supplies and goods that characterize the character of the place. Hint: On a maximum of four Sundays and public holidays a year, the municipality may allow sales outlets to be opened on request for special occasions.
