Sachverhalt

Anyone who is a citizen of a member state of the European Union (EU), the European Economic Area (EEA) or Switzerland and has acquired an educational qualification outside Germany which entitles them to provide independent assistance in tax matters may work as a tax consultant in Germany. The prerequisite for this is to take an aptitude test before an examination board at the highest tax authority of the federal state in which the activity is to be taken up. The aptitude test is a special form of tax consultancy examination.

Binding information

Binding information on whether the requirements for admission to the aptitude test are met can be requested from the competent chamber of tax advisors.

Examinations in Saxony

In Saxony, the aptitude test is taken by an examination board at the Saxon State Ministry of Finance and can be taken regularly either at the same time as the regular tax advisor examination in October or in April of each year. The examination can only be taken in German and consists of a written and an oral part.

- If you do not pass, you can retake the exam up to two times.
- Some further education institutes offer preparatory courses.

Single point of contact

For this procedure, you can make use of the services of the Single Point of Contact. He or she will guide you through the procedure, take care of the correspondence with all the offices responsible for your request and will be at your side as a competent advisor.
