Volltext

At the college, adults have the opportunity to prepare for and take the general university entrance examination (Abitur). Classes are not held part-time, as is the case with evening classes, but in full-time, i.e. as in normal schooling.

The college usually begins with a one-year introductory phase (two school semesters). This is followed by the two-year course phase with grades 11 and 12 (four course semesters). Under certain circumstances, however, you can skip the introductory phase or you may have to complete a one-year preliminary course (two school semesters). The college period thus lasts between two and four years.

To be accepted at a college, you must meet the following requirements:

Preliminary course - entrance examination - introductory phase

Modul

Sachverhalt

You start the college with the preliminary course if you hold a secondary modern school leaving certificate (Hauptschulabschluss).

- You start the introductory phase at the college if you have been transferred at the end of the preliminary course or if you have a Realschulabschluss or equivalent school-leaving certificate.

Skipping the preliminary course and introductory phase

- You can skip the preliminary course and the introductory phase if you expect to be able to meet the requirements of the course phase (grades 11 and 12), especially if you: hold the entrance qualification for a university of applied sciences (Fachhochschulreife) hold a subject-related higher education entrance qualification, or have left the Gymnasium after grade 11.

Change to another college

- If you have successfully completed the preliminary course, you can continue with the introductory phase at another college. The same applies when changing schools between the introductory phase and the course phase.
- During the course phase you can only change to another college if you will be able to continue the mandatory courses starting in grade 11.
- During the school year, you may only change schools for good reason, for example, if you change your place of residence.
