A school qualification acquired abroad is deemed equivalent to the Realschulabschluss or intermediate school leaving certificate, provided that it has been recognised as equivalent by the school supervisory authority. The admission requirements are met if the average grade calculated from all subjects of this qualification is at least 2.5.

Applicants who do not fulfil the grade requirements but whose average grade for all subjects is better than 3.0 can also be admitted to vocational grammar schools if their aptitude is determined in a subject-oriented aptitude interview

Students will not be admitted,
