area specified for your training occupation by the school supervisory authority. Exceptions are only possible if this has been approved for you.

- Your main place of residence is so far away from the school that it would take you at least three hours a day to get there and back using the cheapest public transport, including waiting times (pupils with disabilities: two hours and ten minutes).

The following days are taken into account for financial support:

- School days and days on which other compulsory school events take place
- days without lessons and arrival and departure days if overnight accommodation is necessary due to unreasonable transport connections (this would be the case if you had to arrive before 05:00 or leave after 20:00 on the lesson day)

Support is excluded for participants in retraining measures. The same applies to students who have a higher education entrance qualification or who already have a qualification in a recognised training occupation or a professional school qualification.
