Sachverhalt

With your severely disabled person's ID card with supplementary sheet and a valid token to carry with you, you can travel free of charge not only on the buses and trams of the regional transport associations, but also on all local trains of Deutsche Bahn AG throughout Germany. Since 01.09.2011, the route list has been abolished with the result that the free travel entitlement can be used throughout Germany without restriction in the following local trains of DB Regio AG free of charge in second class:

- S-Bahn
- Regional train (RB)
- Regional Express (RE)
- Interregio-Express (IRE).

Carriage of an accompanying person

You are entitled to take an accompanying person with you free of charge if your severely disabled person's pass shows the symbol B and the note "The need for constant accompaniment is proven". With the BI sign, you are allowed to take a guide dog with you free of charge.

Exemption from costs

Blind or helpless people and severely disabled people who receive one of the following benefits receive a token free of charge:

- Benefits to secure subsistence according to the Second Book of the German Social Code (Basic Security for Jobseekers)
- Assistance towards subsistence or basic security in old age and in case of reduced earning capacity according to the Twelfth Book of the Social Code (social assistance)
- Benefits under Book Eight of the Social Code (child and youth welfare)
- Benefits according to the Federal Law on the Welfare of War Victims (Bundesversorgungsgesetz). Under certain conditions, severely disabled persons, persons entitled to pensions and compensation are also transported free of charge and do not have to pay a contribution for the token. This is the case if they have been entitled to free travel since at least 01.10.1979 due to the consequences of their injury.

Note: Under certain conditions, severely disabled persons, persons entitled to pensions and compensation are also transported free of charge and do not have to pay a contribution for the token if they have been entitled to free travel due to the consequences of their injury since at least 1 October 1979.

Reimbursement

Tokens issued for one year can be returned up to six months before expiry at the latest; half of the fee will then be refunded on application (this period also applies in the event of death).

Verfahrensablauf

Apply to the competent district or city in Saxony for a supplementary sheet with a token.

Notes: To apply, you must either have applied for a severely disabled person's pass or be in possession of a valid one. The supplementary sheet is part of the
