Volltext	Every two years, the State Prize honours exemplary projects that creatively solve building tasks associated with structural change in rural regions with a high level of architectural quality. The focus is primarily on conversion and renovation projects as well as newly designed open spaces, but also new buildings in harmony with the settlement structure. The state prize recognises the achievements of developers, architects and building trades who contribute to building culture in rural areas and to the implementation of LEADER development strategies, thereby positively shaping their region. The next competition is expected to take place in 2025 Tip: You can find the winners of previous competitions at -> _Detailed information_.
