Volltext	Intermediate examination to determine the level of training during vocational training in accordance with § 48 of the Vocational Training Act (BBiG) Your intermediate examination takes place approximately halfway through the training period. It is intended to give you and your training company an impression of your current level of performance. The subject of the examination is the skills, knowledge and abilities specified in the training regulations as well as the subject matter from the vocational school lessons. Please note! Participation in the intermediate examination is mandatory for all trainees. It is a prerequisite for admission to the final examination. Intermediate examinations consist of a written part and, if necessary, a further practical part. Both parts of the examination usually take place on different days. The written part of the examination usually takes place on a fixed day at the same time throughout Germany. An intermediate examination is organised regionally by the responsible bodies (Industrie- und Handelskammern) for all trainees around halfway through the training period. The date is defined in the training regulations. Notes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Intermediate examinations only take place in professions in which the training regulations do not</li> </ul>
