Sachverhalt

However, if you generate less than 20 tonnes of hazardous waste per year, you can participate in the collective waste disposal certificate procedure instead. In this case, it is not the waste-generating company that provides proof of disposal, but the company that collects the waste.

The competent body must also confirm the permissibility of the disposal prior to the start of the disposal in the collective waste approval procedure.

The obligation to confirm the collective proof of disposal does not apply in the so-called privileged procedure. This applies to the following companies:

- Disposal facilities that are certified as specialised waste management companies or
- Disposal facilities that belong to a company entered in the EMAS register or
- Waste management facilities that are exempt from the confirmation obligation upon application by the competent authority.
- A collective waste management certificate can only be issued in the privileged procedure if the waste in question is listed in Annex 2 letters a and b of the Nachweisverordnung (NachwV).

In the privileged procedure, disposal can begin immediately after the collective disposal certificate has been sent to the competent authority.
