Teaser	You can take advantage of health check-ups for your children. This means that a child's general state of health and age-appropriate development are regularly examined by a doctor. Possible problems or abnormalities can be detected and treated at an early stage.
Volltext	The statutory health insurance funds cover the costs of medical screening examinations for insured children and adolescents, also known as U-examinations and J-examinations. Children and young people up to the age of 18 can take advantage of these examinations. They are used for the early detection of illnesses that endanger their physical, mental or psychosocial development. Up to the age of six, this also includes early detection examinations for dental, oral and jaw diseases, e.g. determining the risk of tooth decay and advice on nutrition and oral hygiene. The Federal Joint Committee regulates the content, type and scope of the examinations in the guideline on the early detection of diseases in children (U1 to U9) of the guideline on youth health examinations (J1).
Erforderliche Unterlagen	You will need your child's electronic health card and the child examination booklet ("yellow booklet"), which you will receive directly after the birth.
Voraussetzungen	Insured children and adolescents are generally entitled to early detection examinations until they reach the age of 18. However, the following examination periods must be observed:
