Special legal regulations apply to protect children and young people from excessive demands, overwork and the associated dangers in the workplace. • With regard to the duration of work, a vacation job is limited to a maximum of 50 working days per year or 2 months at a time with a 5-day week. • The Youth Employment Protection Act applies for young people who are required to attend school full-time in conjunction with the Child Employment Protection Ordinance. • Anyone who is at least 18 years old is not subject to any special restrictions with regard to the type of work and working hours.
