Teaser	You want to start working life as a young person? Then you must have a medical examination before starting work.
Volltext	If you are under 18 years of age and would like to start working (training), you must first undergo a medical examination (initial examination). The examination will determine whether you are physically and developmentally suitable for this occupation. This is to prevent you from suffering damage to your health as a result of the work. After the examination, you will receive a certificate. You must present this to your employer. You do not need to have a medical examination if you are starting a marginal job or if you are only working for a short time (maximum 2 months). This applies, for example, to a holiday job or a traineeship for schoolchildren. The costs of the examination are paid by the state. You must apply for the initial examination in order to be reimbursed for the examination costs.
