| Volltext                      | Whether and where wastewater is to be disposed of using small sewage treatment plants is determined by the municipalities in their wastewater regulations for individual properties or for certain parts of the municipal area. In these cases, the obligation to dispose of wastewater is transferred from the municipality to the property owner. The operator of the small wastewater treatment plant must apply for a water discharge permit from the responsible authority. However, the municipality is still responsible for the disposal of the sludge produced in the small sewage treatment plants. |
