Volltext	Every food business is obliged under EU law, • to register and to • notify any significant changes. A special form of registration of businesses that process or handle products of animal origin is approval according to EU-wide rules. The competent food control authorities provide information on whether approval is required in individual cases and which procedural steps must be followed. Agricultural businesses are not required to register if • they supply only small quantities of self-produced primary products, such as unprocessed fruit and vegetables, honey or eggs, to the final consumer or to local retail shops, or • they produce for their private domestic use.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	if there are several permanent establishments: a separate form for each permanent establishment
