Modul
Sachverhalt

You already had a settlement permit or a permanent residence permit-EU. This has only become invalid because you

- you have left the EU, or
- were granted long-term resident status in another EU member state.

- Periods during which you studied or completed vocational training in Germany

You can have half of these credited.

- Periods during which you were entitled to freedom of movement.

- the period between the date of application for international protection and the date of issue of a residence title granted on the basis of the granting of international protection.

The following persons cannot be granted an EU permanent residence permit:

- Persons who have already been granted a comparable permit in another EU Member State
- Refugees, persons with a residence permit on humanitarian grounds and foreign nationals who have only applied for refugee status or subsidiary protection
- Persons staying in Germany for educational purposes or for other temporary purposes only
- Diplomats and other persons who enjoy a special legal status, in particular under the Vienna Conventions on Diplomatic and Consular Relations

Note: If you cannot obtain a permit for permanent residence in the EU, this also applies to your family members who have joined you in Germany.
