Teaser	As a skilled worker with vocational training, you can obtain a residence permit to look for a job for a period of six months if you meet certain requirements.
Volltext	You can obtain a residence permit to look for a job for skilled workers if you have completed qualified vocational training in Germany. Qualified vocational training exists if you have completed vocational training in a state-recognized or comparably regulated training occupation. The training must have lasted at least two years. If you have completed your vocational training abroad, the equivalence of your qualification with the German qualified vocational training must be determined by the competent recognition body (e.g. the Chamber of Industry or Commerce). If you wish to work in a regulated profession, the necessary professional license must already have been granted or approved when the residence permit for seeking employment is issued. Regulated professions are professional activities that are subject to the possession of certain professional qualifications by law or administrative regulations. In Germany, regulated professions are, for example, doctors, nurses, lawyers, teachers, educators or engineers.
