Volltext	To drive a motor vehicle of the moped category (single-track bicycles with an auxiliary motor, maximum speed not exceeding 25 km/h), a two-wheeled motor vehicle or a three-wheeled motor vehicle, the maximum speeds of which do not exceed 25 km/h, or electronic mobility aids with a maximum design speed not exceeding 20 km/h on public roads, you need a test certificate. The test certificate is proof of sufficient knowledge of driving the aforementioned motor vehicles whose maximum speed does not exceed 25 km/h, and is familiar with the dangers of road traffic and the behavior required to avert them. It is not a driver's license in the legal sense. The test certificate must be carried when driving and handed over to competent persons for examination upon request. It was introduced on April 1, 1980. Persons born before April 1, 1965 do not need a test certificate. In this case, the identity card must be presented for inspection. Furthermore, you do not need a test certificate if you have a valid driver's license. The test certificate entitles the holder to drive motorcycles with a maximum design speed of 25 km/h (moped), so-called light mopeds (maximum engine capacity 30 cm<sup>3</sup>, maximum design speed 20 km/h), electronic mobility aids with a maximum design speed of 20 km/h, as well as two-wheeled motor vehicles of class L1e-B and three-wheeled motor vehicles of classes L2e-P and L2e-U, if their design ensures that the maximum speed on level ground is limited to a maximum of 25 km/h. The test certificate is issued to the holder of the test certificate.
