Volltext	Whether it was the influx of refugees in the summer of 2015 or a large-scale evacuation after a bomb was found - the events that require the construction of emergency shelters are diverse. The THW can set up and repair these shelters in crisis situations. The infrastructure specialist group provides the necessary equipment for this. In addition, the Electrical Supply Section and the Drinking Water Supply Section can provide the emergency shelters with electricity and running water. The logistics team is used to transport the necessary materials. However, the operation of the emergency shelters is the responsibility of the requesting authorities themselves - usually cities and municipalities - or is delegated by them to service providers. Contact persons are the responsible THW facilities on site. You can contact them via www.thw.de to find them. On behalf of the Federal Government, THW can also set up emergency shelters abroad, e.g. for internally displaced persons.
