Teaser	Have you had to close your business or practice due to an activity ban or quarantine? Here you will find information on how to be reimbursed for continuing non-covered operating costs.
Volltext	In the event of a ban on activities or a quarantine, as a self-employed person or self-employed person, in addition to the claim for compensation for loss of earnings, you also have a claim for reimbursement of continuing non-covered operating expenses, such as rent or loans. This only applies to operating expenses that cannot be avoided. In addition, you must keep operating costs as low as possible. Reimbursement is made to a reasonable extent. This is a so-called "optional benefit". This means that the authority has leeway to assess whether there is a claim and how high it is. On the website of the State Office for Health and Social Affairs M-V you can find all relevant information on the subject of compensation under the Infection Protection Act (IfSG). In addition, an online portal from a cooperation of 10 federal states is available for information and applications for compensation under the IfSG is available.
