Teaser	If you are a taxable (legal) person and generate foreign income from a country with which an agreement exists for the avoidance of double taxation, a certificate of residence may be required for submission to a foreign tax authority. may be required.
Volltext	Often, for example, the foreign state requires a certificate of residence within the meaning of a double taxation agreement (DTA) if you apply abroad for exemption or refund of withholding taxes levied there on interest, dividends or royalties. The residency of a person is to be determined according to the respective regulations of the specific DTA between Germany and the other state in which the income is received. If you need advice in this regard, you can request it for a fee from a tax advisor of your choice. Certificates of residence may only be issued on an official form. They are issued by your tax office or by the tax office of your company. The residence certificate may already be part of the foreign exemption or refund application (for example, in the case of foreign investment income or royalties). For this purpose, the Federal Central Tax Office (BZSt) provides the forms agreed with the respective foreign tax authority. In addition, the German tax authority form valid for all types of income can be used, which is provided by the Federal Tax Administration.

Erforderliche Unterlagen	written application (in duplicate)
Voraussetzungen	You can submit the application for yourself (as a natural person, for example as a partner in a partnership) or on behalf of a legal entity (for example a corporation). A certificate of residence under a double taxation agreement (DTA) can be issued: • for income tax purposes only, • if the natural person or the legal entity is • is resident in Germany according to the respective DTA and • income was earned abroad (for example, foreign investment income or royalties)
Kosten	Gebühr: Es fallen keine Kosten an
Verfahrensablauf	You can apply for a residence certificate under a double taxation agreement (DTA) in writing to the tax office responsible for you or the legal entity. • You must submit the application form in duplicate. • The tax office will then check, on the basis of your application and the contents of the file, whether the conditions for confirmation of residence in Germany are met. • If the conditions are met, the tax office will certify residency directly on the form you submit. • The tax office hands over or sends you the original copy of the certificate of residency, while it keeps the duplicate on file.
Bearbeitungsdauer	0 - 1 Monat(e)
Frist	None. The residency of the person can be certified by point in time or by period. de.xoev.schemata.xzufi._2_2_0.StringLocalized@2bbcd0f
