Teaser	If you are unemployed and want to start a business, you can apply for a start-up grant from the employment agency. For this, you need the opinion of an expert body on your business concept.
Volltext	You should first clarify any questions relating to funding with the relevant employment agency. This is also where you apply for the start-up grant. A prerequisite for the start-up grant from the employment agency is that an expert body has examined your business idea and considers it to be viable. You can choose the contact person for the opinion. This can be, for example, the Chamber of Industry and Commerce. During the viability test, your start-up concept is checked for plausibility and comprehensibility. The decisive factor is whether you can live from the implementation of the business idea after a start-up phase. In addition to the Chamber of Industry and Commerce, other bodies can also assess the viability of your project: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Chambers of Crafts, • professional chambers, • trade associations, • credit institutions, • Others (tax consultants, auditors, start-up initiatives, etc.). In the event of justified doubts, the employment
