Voraussetzungen

The prerequisite for an exemption permit in accordance with Section 70 StVZO or the Vehicle Registration Ordinance (FZV) is the submission of the required documents (informal application, expert opinion from the technical inspection body for motor vehicle traffic or the technical service and a copy of the vehicle documents) to the body responsible for the permit. As a general rule, exemptions may only be approved if all reasonable possibilities for complying with the provisions of the StVZO and the FZV have been fully exhausted. If, on the other hand, a deviation from the regulations, in particular with regard to dimensions, cornering, axle loads or total masses, is only necessary for certain vehicle types or purposes away from public traffic areas (e.g. use on construction sites), an exemption permit is generally not required. Confirmation of technical suitability in the vehicle documents is sufficient for this purpose, provided that the other values are documented and complied with in accordance with the regulations.

Kosten

Notices of costs are based on the scale of fees for road traffic measures (GebOST) in conjunction with the scale of fees for the scale of fees for road traffic measures (GebTSt). In accordance with No. 255 GebTSt, a framework fee of €10.20 to €511.00 is set for each decision on an exemption from a provision of the and therefore does not include permission for journeys that deviate from the provisions of the StVO. § Section 29 (3) StVO requires a "permit for the movement of vehicles and trains whose dimensions (including cornering), axle loads or total masses actually exceed the legally permissible limits or whose design does not allow the driver a sufficient field of vision". This permit must always be issued by the authorities responsible for the StVO (after checking the route) before the journeys, which in the cases concerned can also be included as a condition in every exemption permit.

Hinweise

The local jurisdiction is generally based on your main place of residence or the registered office of your company. Exemption permits are always issued to the holder and must contain a reservation of revocation. The transfer of the exemption permit to a new holder is only possible with the consent of the approval authority responsible for the new holder.

Rechtsbehelf

If the Mecklenburg-Vorpommern State Office for Road Construction and Traffic has decided on the exemption in accordance with Section 70 StVZO, you can lodge an objection against the granting, non-granting or insufficient granting of the exemption. The objection must be addressed to the Mecklenburg-Vorpommern State Office for Road Construction and Traffic. If the Mecklenburg-Vorpommern State Office for Road Construction and Traffic does not uphold the objection and issues an objection notice, you can take legal action against the objection notice before the administrative court.
