Sachverhalt

Outside of market regulation law is required:

- Approval under hygiene law: Egg packing centers may only place their products on the market if they are approved or registered under hygiene law. Responsibility: Veterinary and food inspection offices.
- Eggs from organic production: In addition to market law and hygiene law, confirmation by an approved organic inspection body is required.

If eggs are sold ex farm (production site), at the door or at a public market directly to the end consumer and not according to quality and weight classes, no approval as a packing station is required.

Direct marketers who market eggs via a trading partner (retailer, baker, kiosk, other direct marketer, etc.) or who wish to offer eggs sorted by size and quality class or who have a sales radius of more than 100 kilometers require approval as a packing station.
