Teaser	If you want to join your German minor, unmarried child in Germany, you can obtain a residence permit for family reunification.
Volltext	You can join your German, minor, unmarried child if you come from a country outside the EU or the EEA, have personal custody of the German child and intend to exercise this custody. Personal custody includes the right and at the same time the duty to care for, raise and supervise the child and to determine its residence. A child is a minor if he or she has not yet reached the age of 18. A person is single if he or she is not married and has not been married before; a person living in a registered partnership is not single either. If these requirements are met, you must be granted a residence permit. You can also join your child if you do not have custody of the child. The prerequisite for this is that you and your child already live together as a family in Germany. A family relationship is assumed if the relatives
